

Approved Quality for edible vegetable oils and fats to help balanced diets

As per a survey of the association for consumer research on certifications of 2005, a seal of approval for food is very important for 65 of 100 consumers.

As a result of the strong health trends of recent years the consumers' behaviour has changed a lot. A balanced diet is one of the central needs of human beings. Healthiness is important both for everyone personally and for the society. Unfortunately its importance is often only recognised with its absence or with increasing age.

Walter Rau Neusser Öl und Fett AGs complete product range has been awarded the seal of Approved Quality by TÜV SÜD. The seal get foods that are hygienically correct, safe and of best quality. They deepen their mutual trust to the customers with this confirmation of high-class products.

Walter Rau has passed assessment in the field of manufacture and marketing of edible vegetable oils and fats from the angle of their nutritional and functional value and customer advisory service. 🌻
